

Peter Boehringer

Peter Boehringer (*1969) is a member of the Deutscher Bundestag and AfD's parliamentary speaker on EU affairs.

Boehringer is a former asset manager, founder of „German Precious Metal Society“ NGO, and the initiator of the international public campaign „Repatriate our Gold“, which triggered Deutsche Bundesbank to repatriate 50% of its gold from abroad to Germany. Boehringer published a book on this topic („Finanzbuch“ publishing house, 2015).

A Master of IT and Business Administration by training (degrees from European Business School in 1995), Boehringer has worked mainly for international companies such as „Booz Allen Inc“ (top mgmt. consultancy) and 3i plc (private equity, UK). Since 2003, Boehringer is a financial author and conference speaker with a critical focus on the EU and Euro, on the flawed worldwide monetary system, and on other major political developments detrimental to the economy.

Peter Boehringer is a member of the board of trustees of Germany's national Nuclear Waste Disposal fund („KENFO“; 25 bn Euro); a contributor and follower of the market-oriented „Austrian School of Economics“, member of the renowned „Hayek Society for Freedom“ since 2012, and awardee of the „Roland Baader prize for Freedom and Economic Health“ (2013).

In 2015, Boehringer became financial spokesman of the party. He is member of AfD's national programme committee. June 2022 – July 2026, Boehringer was elected vice chairman of AfD party.

2017, Peter Boehringer is a member of the 19th German Bundestag. Boehringer served as chairman of the Budget Committee of the Bundestag – presiding over the complex negotiation process for the German national budget (annual size 400 billion Euros). Boehringer served as AfD's first parliamentary speaker on budgetary policy in the 19th and 20th legislative period.

In 2025, he became AfD's parliamentary speaker on European Union affairs.
